Custom Alarm/Custom Communications, Inc. is Honored by Bosch Security with Access Easy Controller Dealer of The Year Award

Bosch Security Systems, Inc., a full-line manufacturer of high-quality security solutions, announced Wednesday that Custom Alarm/Custom Communications, Inc. has received the company's Access Easy Controller Dealer of the Year Award. Bosch's executive management team selected Custom Alarm/Custom Communications, Inc. due to the company's outstanding sales of the Bosch Access Easy Controller.

"Access control is a strategic growth area for Bosch, and we are celebrating Custom Alarm/Custom Communication Inc.'s tremendous accomplishments with installations of our Access Easy Controller product," said Shamus Hurley, president, Bosch Security Systems.

A Bosch Certified Security Dealer since 2003, Custom Alarm/Custom Communications, Inc. specializes in commercial access control systems, in addition to fire, CCTV and professional sound systems. Leigh Johnson, CEO of Custom Alarm/Custom Communications, Inc., accepted the award at Bosch's national sales meeting held this week in Chicago.

"We pride ourselves on providing on the best product solutions for our customers," said Johnson. "We refuse to skimp on quality, and that distinction sets us apart in our community. With its ease of use and installation, the Access Easy Controller is the best fit for many of our customers, and we anticipate continued success with this system."

Custom Alarm/Custom Communications, Inc. has installed and services the Access Easy Controller product at various businesses throughout the Midwest, including utility service companies, medical centers and factories.

Designed for small and medium-sized commercial enterprises, the Bosch Access Easy Controller is affordable, easy to operate and requires little training or maintenance. It's also scalable, so it can grow as the customer's business expands.
